Landfill Rezoning Okayed

Residents of Area Promise More Fight

By BETSY ROSSEN

A standing-room-only crowd of about 50 people heard the village board Monday night approve rezoning of the CCD sanitary landfill near Little Silver Lake.

Residents of the area expressed disbelief that the board had passed the zoning change from limited manufacturing to general manufacturing by a 5-1 margin.

The debate became heated, with residents, spokesmen, attorneys and trustees seeking to affect the vote. The village zoning board of appeals, by a vote of 2-2-2, had previously denied the change.

However, the board's planning and zoning committee, headed by Trustee Ronald Cunningham, recommended in its July 9 meeting to allow rezoning, contingent upon Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) approval of the operation. Upon completion of the landfill, the operation is to be limited to uses under the current (M-1) classification. CCD is to donate 45 acres to the village as a result of the rezoning.

BRAD MUSE, vice president of the Chain of Lakes Conservation Association, said the operation has been in violation of state environmental standards for 10 years. He concurred with John Norris, who called himself a "concerned Lake County resident," and maintained that the solid waste disposal on a flood plain is against Illinois standards.

Muse assured those present, "We're not through fighting yet. Our next step is to register a protest with the EPA."

Outside the meeting, Little Silver Lake area residents voiced their disapproval of the board's action, claiming that the operation creates noise, water pollution and health hazards.

"Why does Little Silver Lake have to be the 'Garbage Capital' of the Lakes area?" asked one resident. "Only one-third of the garbage dumped there is from Antioch."

Another concern of the residents is the possibility of contaminated water entering Sequoit Creek, which empties into the other lakes in the chain.

Student's Murals Brighten Antioch's Downtown area

There is going to be a small village park in downtown Antioch on the west side of Main Street.

It will be nestled in the former parking area between the new Antioch Tailor Shop and the Chop Suey restaurant.

To brighten the scene, 25 art students at Antioch Community High School are painting murals on the two buildings. It's a summer class project and they must be finished by Aug. 2. So almost any weekday morning you will find them high on the scaffolding, painting away.

The major designer of the murals was Teri Strom. Another student, John Edgell, made a scale model of the project. He was assisted by Ron Cook.

"Murals on buildings is becoming a big thing all over the country," said Mrs. Jane H. Craner, art teacher at ACHS. "It's happening all around us. It's the 'now' sort of thing, and I think it's a marvelous project for these students to undertake."

Tele-Care To Contact Persons Living Alone

There have been instances in the Antioch area in which an elderly person has fallen at home, breaking bones or suffering a stroke, and has laid unattended for several days.

This is the kind of tragedy that Tele-Care of Antioch hopes to prevent. The new program will begin soon, perhaps by Aug. 1, and will give persons who live alone some outside contact at least once every 24 hours.

Tele-Care volunteers will be at the phone seven mornings a week, from 9 to 11 a.m., in the office of the Antioch Methodist Church. The number will be 395-5161. It is a non-sectarian project.

The volunteers will call elderly persons or couples, or disabled persons, every morning to see that they are alright.

There is no charge for persons to sign up for the service, and they are free to drop it at anytime.

The Antioch Police Dept. is cooperating and local businessmen have agreed to pay the monthly telephone bills. The State Bank of Antioch has paid for having the phone installed and the first month of service.

There already are about a dozen volunteers planning to donate two hours a month to manning the telephone in the church office. More volunteers are needed and a training session is planned at 3 p.m. on Saturday, July 27, in the church office.

Persons interested in more information about the program can call Barbara Goetzelman, chairman of Tele-Care Antioch, at 395-2372.

Grass Lake School To Survey Parents

The Grass Lake Board of Education has begun work on a survey to determine parental reaction to the school and its programs.

Supt. William Hart stressed the importance of the surveys, which will be mailed to each parent in the district, and the need to return them to the school office.

The information will be used for evaluation of programs and in making future plans. All residents of the district are urged to take part in the survey and may receive a form by contacting the Grass Lake School office.

A cooperative service for physical exams, required of all kindergarten, first and fifth graders, is to be provided. Mr. Hart said that when plans are finalized, notices will be sent to parents.

The district's tentative 1974-75 budget was presented and discussed, but the approved tax increase in the educational will not be reflected until the 1975-76 school year. The budget will be available for inspection beginning Aug. 1 from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

A teaching contract for Pamela Frederick, science and physical education teacher, was approved, and the resignation of Linda Bullard, mathematics teacher, was accepted. Staff vacancies, including first grade teacher and a reading-library position, are to be filled.

casting the only "no" vote, though not surprised by the results, told the board and the audience "there are too many questions unanswered." She also felt the board did not have the necessary expertise to decide. She said that the concern and interest of the residents was a major factor in her decision.

In other action, Jaycees representative Jim Cermak asked the board's approval and support of a bike marathon, to be held Saturday, July 27, in conjunction with Maxwell Street Days. Details are to be worked out this week for the afternoon event, open to bikers ages 15 and over.

Hold On To Tax Records

Just as certain documents were essential for you to fill out your Federal income tax Form 1040, they may well be necessary for you at some time in the future. Obviously, if this year's tax return is selected by the Internal Revenue Service for an audit, you will need those records to show how you determined what you thought to be the correct tax due. Even if your return is accepted as filed, for your peace of mind and good business practice you should keep all tax records as long as they remain useful to you.

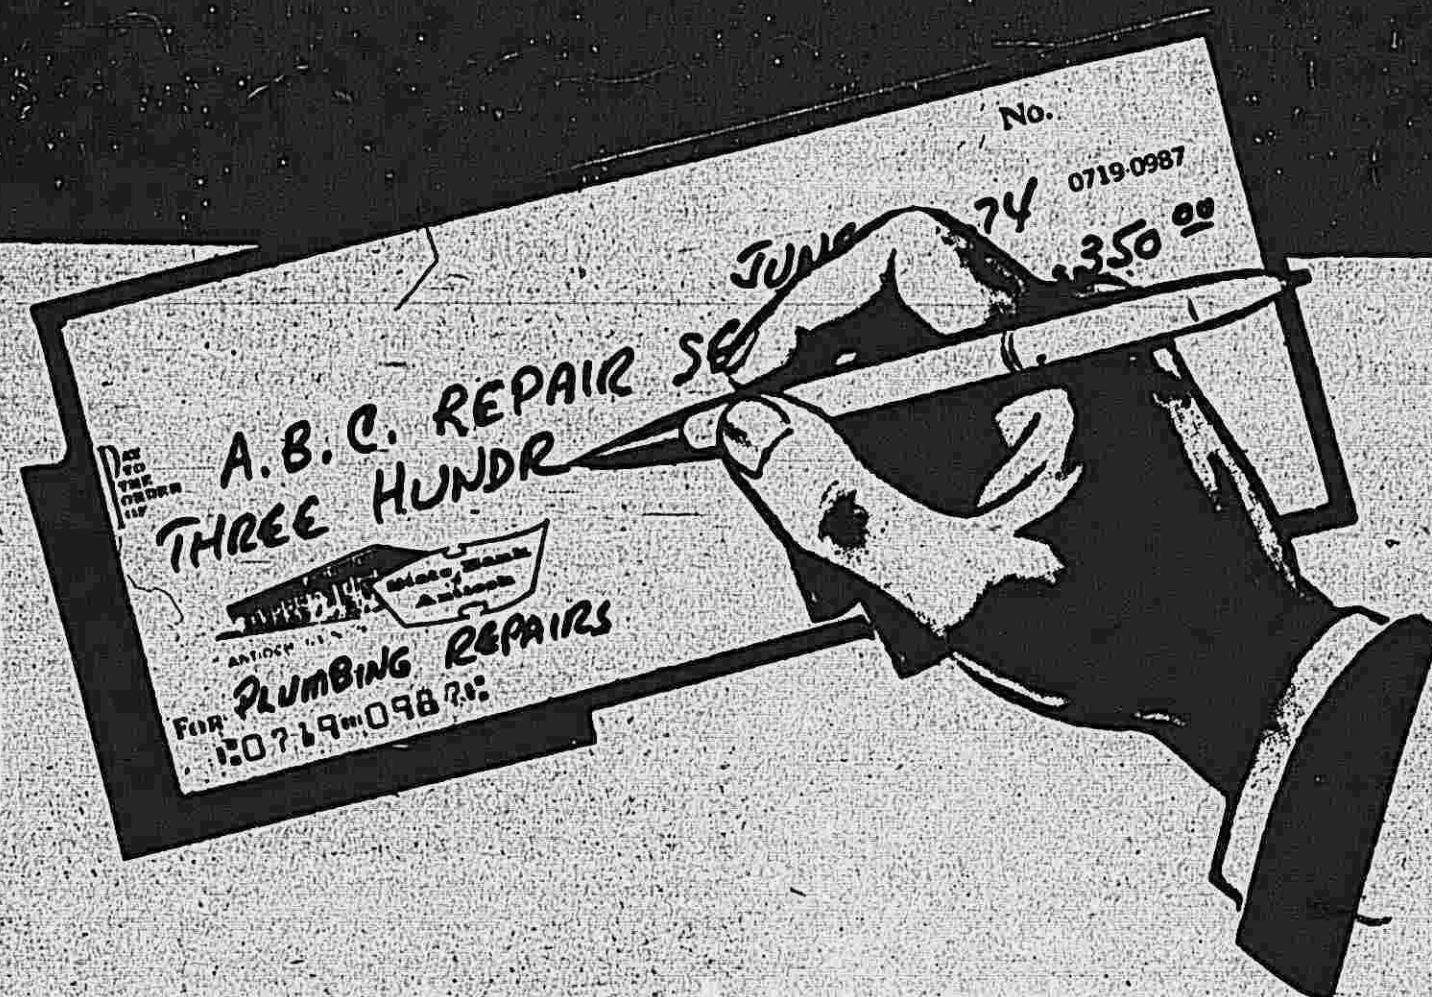

There is no requirement as to the particular kinds of records for tax purposes, other than that they must be permanent, accurate, and complete. However, it might pay to look over your tax accounting methods, for no one should remain under the illusion that bits and pieces of paper thrown into a discarded showbox can be considered proper records at tax time.

The IRS recommends that all taxpayers carefully consider keeping track of such records as medical-care insurance premiums; cost of medicine and drugs; medical and dental expenses; state, local, and property taxes; charitable contributions; interest and finance charges; disabled dependent and child care; political contributions; business and educational expenses; on-business expenses, such as investment advice and publications; and reimbursements for casualty losses or thefts.

How long should you keep tax records? It varies, depending on the information documented. In general, records must be retained as long as their content may be material in the administration of any internal revenue law.

"Let me put it this way—it's six months from now—what are you kicking yourself for not having foreseen?"

Beware of 'Free' Offers

The times we get "something for nothing" in this life are few and far between...if ever. But many of us keep believing it will happen. And many of us, consequently, get taken.

Good examples of this are the 3,000 people from Illinois and other states who sent $18 each to a fraudulent auto vacation association. The $18 supposedly was a "service fee" to process their prizes of free vacations in leading resort areas.

Letters announcing the prizes were accompanied by pictures and descriptions of hotels at which winners allegedly could take their free vacations.

All these "lucky winners" had to do to claim their free vacations was to send the company $18.

Three thousand people sent $18.00.

Three thousand people DID NOT get free vacations.

No one got a free vacation.

It was a hoax.

The Illinois Attorney General's Consumer Fraud and Protection Division filed a civil damage suit against the promoters in the Circuit Court of Cook County. And on May 29, Judge Nathan M. Cohen ruled in the Attorney General's favor, ordering Gerald Hattula and Edward Terrell, Jr. -- the two defendants who had set up the bogus "United States Automobile Vacation Association" -- to repay all $55,193 they obtained in individual $18 "service fees" from unsuspecting consumers.

The payments will be made in monthly installments over a period of years and eventually all 3,106 consumers will receive full refunds.

Both defendants were sentenced to five years probation.

The defendants had represented that the office of their phony association was located in the National Press Building in Washington, D.C. In fact, the office was located in Oak Brook, Ill. And, to lull consumers into a false sense of security, the defendants used the words "United States" in their business name, used the Washington, D.C. mailing address, used a symbol of the American Eagle on the promotional materials, and used the name

Let's Not Have 2 Memorial Days

By REP. ROBERT MCCLORY

A serious dilemma has arisen regarding our national holidays -- particularly Veterans Day and Memorial Day.

It will be recalled that Federal legislation in 1971 designated five national holidays to be celebrated on specified Mondays -- in lieu of the calendar dates previously in effect.

Accordingly, since 1971, George Washington's Birthday has been observed on the third Monday in February, Memorial Day on the last Monday in May, Columbus Day on the second Monday in October, Veterans Day on the fourth Monday in October, in addition to Labor Day, which has been traditionally observed on the first Monday in September.

Through the efforts of certain veterans groups primarily representing the interests of World War I veterans, some 40 State Legislatures have now redesignated Veterans Day to be observed on Nov. 11 -- the traditional World War I Armistice Day. Further complications developed in Illinois this year resulting from action of the State Legislature in changing Memorial Day to its former calendar date on May 30.

WHILE THE Nov. 11th Day observance recalls our first Armistice Day in 1918, the Congress converted Armistice Day into Veterans Day by statutory amendment in 1954. This change was in deference to the veterans of other wars in which our national has been involved, including World War II which ended in September 1945 and the Korean War which terminated in July 1953.

The confusion which accompanies the observance of Veterans Day on the calendar date of Nov. 11 was amply demonstrated in the State of Illinois in 1973. With Veterans Day falling on Sunday, Nov. 11, there were some communities which observed it on Friday, Nov. 8; others staged and observed it on Saturday, Nov. 10; still others on Sunday, Nov. 11 -- including Waukegan -- and finally those who decided to delay their observance until Monday, Nov. 12.

Surely, no one can claim that this disjointed, haphazard situation is a preferable format for honoring our veterans, when the Monday Holiday Act provides an observance on a day certain every year, with no possibility of the Sunday or midweek planning problems that plagued observances of this event in the past.

OBSERVING VETERANS

Day on the fourth Monday in October every year has the added feature of ensuring that there is a full weekend immediately preceding the date of observance that can be utilized either for more extensive planning or for a full three-day program of patriotic events commemorating and honoring our veterans and their tremendous contributions to our free society.

Millions of federal employees, many of whom are veterans, and other citizen groups throughout the nation, are determined to maintain the Monday Holiday program which the Congress enacted after many years of considering this proposal and following extensive debate in the U.S. House of Representatives in 1968.

It should be recalled that the Monday Holiday action is essentially grassroots legislation, designed to benefit American families whose

How To Get A Flying License

If you have accepted the challenge of the wild blue yonder and can't wait to get into the sky, what next?

Do the obvious-Learn to Fly!

But do it at a flight school identified with a company which has a proven flight instruction program.

One of the best programs is available at approximately 500 Piper Flite Centers located at local airports across the country. They use instructional techniques that have helped thousands of pilots get their licenses conveniently, and up to 20 percent faster than the national average.

Learning to fly costs about as much as a winter's skiing or country club dues for a year. But a private pilot's license can also be an economic answer to business and pleasure travel problems. A Piper single-engine airplane travels two to three times the speed of the family automobile and gets 14 to 18 miles per gallon.

The Piper Instructional Program is a carefully structured learning system designed to take you step by step from your first lesson to licensed pilot. You start with basic maneuvers including climbs, turns, level flight, take off and landings. As you develop the basic skills of handling the airplane you also learn basic navigation, radio communications and how air traffic is controlled in an orderly manner.

With approximately 40 hours of instructions you'll be ready for your private pilot license and a whole new life style.

opportunities for wholesome and constructive activity area greatly enhanced when they can be together during these long weekends to commemorate the historic events associated with these national holidays.

It is to be hoped that we will not continue to have two Memorial Days in Illinois in future years. It is also to be hoped that a single Veterans Day may be agreed upon for appropriate observance. Certainly the merits of retaining Veterans Day as a Monday Holiday should receive the thoughtful and rational consideration of Veterans and non-veterans alike.

THE FAMILY PORTRAIT

Since many children go away to school and the family may not be together again until the year-end holidays, this is an ideal time to plan family activities as a group - a time to get back-to-school wardrobes together and to have a contemporary, natural portrait taken of the family by a professional photographer. A color photographic portrait has marvelous gift-giving and home-decorating possibilities.

A family portrait takes only an afternoon. The best way to go about it is to call B-J Rush Studio at 395-5554, decide on an afternoon and make plans together.

You will want to decide whether the portrait should be indoors or out. Many suburban families prefer to have an environmental portrait photograph done on their property or in an attractive near-by location. For instance, your family can be photographed as a group on the tennis court, ice-skating in an indoor rink or at a local park. Any of these create an appealing setting for an action portrait.

B-J Rush Studios can advise you about appropriate framing. A portrait photograph of your family can be used also as a warm personal Christmas card, or for birthday or anniversary gifts for family members.

For a special surprise when the portrait prints are ordered, give Dad a large family portrait for his office with a tailored leather or suede frame - or save it and let Santa put it under the tree.

Also spending the 4th of July weekend camping in Wisconsin were Dan and Linda Runyard and family and Mike and Mary Jo Zeien and children.

This reporter and Joe along with my dad, Lou Portalski and six friends attended the 'Miller 200' stock car race at the Milwaukee State Fair Grounds. It was a very exciting day as the race is really thrilling and although a couple of cars slid into the wall no one was injured.

Get well wishes go to Joanne Franz who is in St. Therese Hospital recovering from serious back surgery. She will be a patient for at least two more weeks and has been there for three weeks already.

Martha Kimmy is a patient at Victory Memorial Hospital undergoing tests. I'm sure these ladies would appreciate cards from their many neighbors and friends.

The Antioch American Legion Post sponsored George Pierce to the State Police Academy in Springfield where he participated in the same training program as a police cadet. He also attended the University of Wisconsin basketball camp in Madison and received an award for the most assists in the camp.

Kathy Pierce and Bill Harland were each awarded a scholarship to the youth conservation workshop sponsored by the Antioch Women's Club. The workshop takes place at Western Illinois University.

Wayne and Dolly Bobo and friends spent the 4th of July week camping at Governor Dodge State park in Wisconsin. Of 40 cars that began the race, only 19 finished including the favorite, Bobby Unser blowing his engine. The winner was a Wisconsinite, Butch Hartman, who also won the '200' in 1973.

The Faces of Evie

The Joys of Joining a Book Club

By EVALYN ROZEK

I like to hold a little bake sale every once in a while. Actually, I don't really LIKE to all that much, but I need the money. To stop the threatening letters from the book club I happen to be in at the time.

It all begins with an innocent-looking letter.

"Good morning, lovely lady," they greet me. How do they know if it's morning? How can they tell that I'm lovely?

"Won't you please give the Happy Day Book Club a try?" they plead. "Send us seven cents and we will ship you more books that you can shake a stick at. The amount you save will be $843.14."

First they soften me up by calling me lovely; then they offer me a bargain. Is there a woman in the world who can resist a one-two punch like that?

I send them my seven cents.

At daybreak the next morning, the truck containing my introductory package arrives. Eagerly, I snuggle down on a pile of dirty laundry and begin to read my first book. It might be a charming little biography of Spiro Agnew's. It might be something entitled "How to Build Your Own Pipe Organ." Or, "One Thousand Things To Do With Old Chicken Bones." "Ways With Okra." But, whatever, it's a bargain.

Exactly two hours after my introductory package arrives, I receive a letter requesting that I fill out the Happy Day order form. Within the next 30 seconds. Before it self-destructs. This will assure me a copy of the latest runaway best-seller.

Presto! The next morning "The Eggplant And I" (in plain brown wrapper) has found its way to my mailbox.

This goes on for months. Many of the books I hide, unopened, in the sewing room. Unfortunately, my husband comes across a copy of "The Ladybug Had No Spots" which I had stashed in the freezer.

"Darling," he says, "where did you get the money to pay for this?"

I mumble something about "installment plan" and try to conceal my concern.

Because now the Happy Day Book Club is looking for money. Money I don't have. Money I was planning to pilfer from the grocery budget before the price of food went up, up and away.

Oh, they're polite in the beginning. "We are positive you have already remitted your payment of $487.02," they assure me. "Kindly disregard this note."

So I do.

Then comes the day I open a letter that reads, "Dear Lady. We hate you. Don't order no more books. You are kicked outta the club. P.S. Pay up now. Our collectors wear pin-stripe suits and carry violin cases."

Now I make a serious attempt to settle my account. I hold my bake sale, sell my husband's bowling ball, raffle off the Irish Setter.

I mail them the money and the black limousine that has been cruising our street speeds away.

I open the drapes and tell the children it's safe to play outside once more.

That's when I notice the letter.

"Good morning, lovely lady. We miss you. We want you back again. Please fill out the enclosed coupon at your earliest convenience. If you act promptly, you, as a former member of the Happy Day Book Club, will receive a free Shetland Pony!"

I suppose if I cleaned out the sewing room. . . .

State Water Survey

Two studies, one on desalting brackish groundwater and the other on artificial recharge of groundwater, have been completed by the Illinois State Water Survey as part of a comprehensive water-supply study of the metropolitan Chicago region.

Many parts of this six-county region (Cook, Du Page, Kane, Lake, McHenry and Will counties) have been estimated to have water-supply deficits by 1990. Since the amount of Lake Michigan water for domestic use is limited by a U.S. Supreme Court decree, alternative sources for meeting predicted needs are being analyzed by the Water Survey.

Although technically feasible, desalting was found to be a relatively expensive alternative, but might be practical if used as a supplement to a fresh groundwater supply.

Artificially recharging groundwater with treated sewage effluents might be successful if a very high quality wastewater effluent was used.

Publications describing these two studies are now available free from the Illinois State Water Survey Box 232, Urbana, Ill. 60801. Ask for Contract Report 153 on desalting and Reprint Series 252 on artificial recharge.

Physicals Offered By School District

By law, some 1400 area students must have physical exams this school year. Your local school districts have been looking for solutions to alleviate the problems of compounding the already overcrowded doctors office and schedules.

The proposal of a local physician has enabled the schools to offer a special service. Dr. Robert J. Barnes of Lake Villa has scheduled three (3) days just for school physicals.

This service is in no way mandatory, but offered for parents who have difficulty in making doctor appointments. The fee for the examination is $5.00, about half of the standard office visit cost. Kindergarten, 5th grade and 9th grade students are reminded to bring their (previously received) physical examination card with them for the examinations. Please bring a urine specimen in a clean labeled container.

Whether the physical is done here at the school, or by your own physician, parents should fill out health history, immunization record and emergency information prior to the examination time scheduled. All students new to any school district are required to have examination records on file.

Immunizations:

Kindergarten D.P.T. (diphtheria, pertussis (whooping cough), tetanus). Oral polio booster.

5th Grade (State law changed) D.T. required for 5th grade only if not immunized for kindergarten.

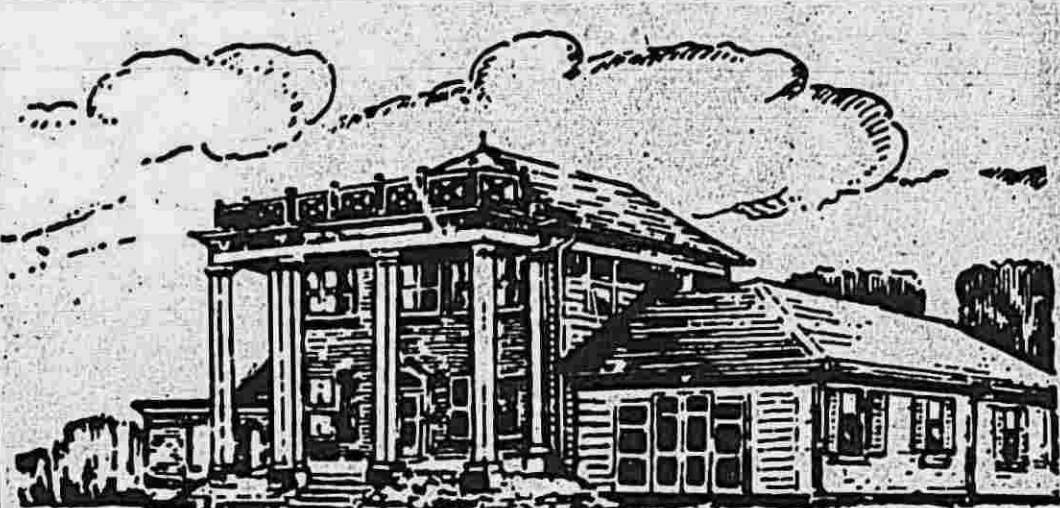

9th Grade D.T. only if not immunized for 5th grade.

Tuesday, July 23, 1974 - physical examinations for all high school freshmen (9th grade students) and senior girl/boy athletes, in the High School Commons. To solve the overcrowding and long lines, the following schedule of students has been established:

9:00 a.m. ... Freshmen ... Acard, Brenda to Carrubba, Lori 10:00 a.m. ... Freshmen ... Casperson, Bryan to Geisler, Laura 11:00 a.m. ... Freshmen ...

Gerhardt, Timothy to Koenig, Thomas
12:30 p.m. ... Freshmen ... Koesser, Allen to Nelson, Sally
1:30 p.m. ... Freshmen ...

Last week I covered a few rules, or should I say guidelines, on declaring items purchased or acquired abroad.

If you send friends or relatives gifts not exceeding $10 in value, there is no duty and no declaration of such items. You simply mark, or have the merchant do it on the outside of the package - "GIFT ENCLOSED," Value Under $10.

On purchases shipped home, make sure somebody is at home to accept the shipment. Use clearance service plus a charge for local delivery, if needed.

So all-in-all, if you are going to send items home; at least in our area, it is best to have them shipped by regular mail.

Previously-owned, foreign-made articles are something we should not forget when we leave the U.S. If you take a foreign-made watch, camera, jewelry or such articles on your trip, register these items before you start your trip at the nearest customs office and get a certificate that will assure duty-free entry on your return.

Sales receipts for original purchase or even receipts for repair or cleaning are acceptable proof of prior acquisitions. This will eliminate a lot of questions and even a time-consuming search by the customs official.

I know by past experience, not just once either; so that is why I am passing this information on to you.

Should you be planning a trip out of the country, check with your local travel agent for a few customs hints first. He has done it many times and knows what is right and wrong.

Chain O'Lakes Park Addition Grant Endorsed by NIPC

The Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission (NIPC) today endorsed a federal grant of $437,657 to the Illinois Department of Conservation for acquisition of 867-acre addition to Chain O'Lakes State park.

The site to be acquired is south of Illinois Route 173 and west of the Fox River in northwest Lake County and northeast McHenry County.

Northeastern Illinois has less public recreational land per person than any other of the ten largest American metropolitan regions. Chain O'Lakes is the most heavily used state park in Illinois. Use of the park has increased due to the gasoline shortage, the Department of Conservation reports.

From Our Readers —

Appreciates Art Fair

Gentlemen:

I would like to publicly express my appreciation to Mr. William Barr and the Art & Craft Fair Committee for a most pleasant and rewarding day Saturday, July 6.

Months of planning and hard work must have gone into this event evidenced by the crowds which came to usually quiet Main Street. Hundreds, if not thousands of people were introduced to Antioch and if the community made their visit pleasant, they will return.

Again thank you Mr. Barr and I hope you will consider managing another Art Fair next year.

Douglas Olson
General Store

Thanks

To the Editor:

The Antioch Jaycees held their annual "Highway Holdup" last Saturday at the major intersection in Antioch. (See picture on page 1.) The money contributed by the people of Antioch will be used to send 50 worthy youngsters to a Cubs game in the coming month.

The Antioch Jaycees would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who contributed to make this project for the community a success.

The Jaycees

mail for shipment whenever possible. If there is a duty charge the mailman will collect it when the delivery is made, along with a small postal handling fee - 50 cents a package.

Sea freight must clear customs at the point of entry unless it is sent in bond to a customs office nearer your home where you arrange to pick it up and pay the duty.

Alternatively, you can have a customs broker do it for you - such as REA. Air express shipments usually entail automatic custom broker service at the terminal city; a small fee is added for this

Art Fair Successful

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce & Industry would like to take this opportunity to thank all the businesses, exhibitors, village officials, police, fire and rescue squad departments, and spectators who participated in the second annual Arts, Crafts and Antiques Fair July 6. Through the coordination and cooperation of those involved, the Chamber was able to expose our town to others who might not have otherwise come to Antioch.

We feel that the purpose of the Fair - to advertise the Village of Antioch - was well-served and, therefore, the fair was a success.

We are still learning how to run the most successful fair. Through artist questionnaires and Chamber-member reaction, we hope to resolve any problems the fair may present.

In order to accomplish the Chamber's goal of community development for the good of all, we need all Antioch area businesses as active Chamber members.

Some questions have been raised by non-Chamber member businessmen regarding insurance and sidewalk clean-up. The Chamber carries special liability insurance coverage for all events such as retail promotions and the art fair. Although the art fair may generate some inconvenience for merchants, such as litter on the sidewalk in front of stores, we hope that the inconvenience would be slight in comparison to the potential benefit to the retailer.

We believe that those who came to the fair enjoyed it, and we will strive to make our 3rd annual fair even more successful.

Sincerely,

Donald Walsh, President
Board of Directors

PM&L Presents Variety Show Aug. 9-10

PM&L Theater will present a variety show called "Apple Pie and Ice Cream" on Friday and Saturday, Aug. 9 and 10 in the auditorium of the Antioch Community High School.

Curtain time for both performances is 8:30 p.m., and persons can call 395-9702 for your reservations.

A goal of the variety show is to raise funds for a new curtain and other remodeling of the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St., where most PM&L productions are performed. That theater will be closed the rest of the summer for remodeling so "Apple Pie and Ice Cream" will be staged at the high school.

Directed by Don Beveroth, the variety show will bring a strongly talented PM&L cast to the stage in a wide range of musical numbers and skits. Most of these, based on contemporary life, will deal with "American as apple pie" themes. These will involve folk music, dancing, comedy skits and patriotic and political satires.

"Apple Pie and Ice Cream" will be brought to the stage by a seasoned crew, including Rita Shields as director of music, Lynn Zaehler as choreographer and Tracy Teltz on piano.

Local Girl Hit By Lightning, Escapes Death

By BETSY ROSSEN

A rural Antioch girl escaped death last week when she was struck by a lightning bolt during Tuesday evening's violent electrical storm.

Patricia Esteb, 17, a Salem Central high school senior, was hit by the bolt as she ran from her car to her home.

Though shaken by the experience, she was neither knocked out nor seriously injured. She had just cashed her paycheck in town, and had been waiting 15 minutes for the rain to let up when she decided to "make a run for it."

Patricia opened the car door, got out and was holding the top of the door when it struck.

"I saw it hit," she said. "My hand turned blue like a driveway reflector for several seconds. My hand and arm tingled. It didn't sound like thunder. The boom was more like a large object smacking into something real hard."

The bolt, which to Patricia felt like a mild shock "when you stand in a puddle of water and touch a refrigerator," passed through her arm and then splintered a tree next to the car.

She jumped, came down screaming and ran into the house, hit a wall and slid to the floor, shouting, "It hit me!"

"My mother ran over and prayed over me, asking the Lord to help me. He did. I felt peace of mind and didn't feel any pain," she said.

permanent damage could be found. "If I came through that I would consider myself lucky to be alive," the doctor said.

On Wednesday a slight heart murmur was detected, though it has subsided. Pat was released from the hospital Thursday and expected to be back to work this week.

Patricia was admitted for testing and observation at Victory Memorial Hospital. Dr. Robert J. Barnes, her physician, reported she had a temporary reaction with numbness in her hand, but no

The Town Crier

I wonder what Antioch can do about the bad scene that takes place on so many nights in the municipal parking lot on Broadway.

Just the other night we went back there to find a bunch of young men loitering around the cars, drinking beer and filling the air with obscenities.

It was encouraging to see that a police car arrived soon and the crowd was dispersed. But it certainly isn't a municipal parking lot that you'd want your wife or daughters to park in if they were coming downtown at night.

I suppose that young men will be young men, and that all communities have problems of this sort. In many ways Antioch has far less rowdiness than most towns. It sure would be better though if the lads who hang out in that area would act like gentlemen.

ONE OF THE major attractions for Sidewalk Superintendents these days is the mural being painted on the side of the building at 896 Main St.

The high school art students are brightening the downtown area, that's for sure.

This mural will be more pleasant than the ones on the backs of the buildings on Waukegan's Genesee St. I think those are unattractive.

When finished, Antioch's first mural will include blue skies, white clouds, green trees and a setting sun. Also, seagulls (yes, there are seagulls in Antioch), bunny rabbits and lots of flowers.

HOW COME at least half of the dishwashing commercials aren't directed toward men?

Just because a man can't swim doesn't mean he can't enjoy himself at the bathing beach.

Lindenhurst News

By SANDI CHRISTMAN

The Lindenhurst Summer Recreation Program conducted its first bike hike last Sunday. In spite of the high temperatures 53 people bicycled from the parking lot of Trinity Church to Camp Hastings where a picnic lunch of hot dogs, potato chips, pop and watermelon awaited them.

Prince of Peace's Salad Bar and Card Party Luncheon will be held at 12 noon on Wednesday, August 14, at the church, corner of Route 83 and 132. For $2.25 per person a smorgasbord consisting of a large variety of delicious dishes can be enjoyed. No limit to the number of times a person can return for more.

LAKE LINDEN'S lifeguard, Tom Craner of Antioch, is busy patrolling both the Beck Road and Surrey Lane-Highpoint beaches. Starting Monday Tom has been spending three hours a day at each beach. The new hours see the Beck Road beach guarded from 11 to 2 p.m. and the Surrey Lane-Highpoint beach covered from 2 to 5 p.m. Signs are to be placed at each beach stating the hours the lifeguard will be on duty. The village has received the new buoys and ropes for marking off the swimming area and hope to have them installed shortly.

If you have ever wanted to take a ride in a helicopter, your chance is not far off. Prince of Peace's Annual Summer Festival starts Thursday and will run thru Sunday on the church grounds. Lots of free parking available, and a variety of carnival rides, refreshments and games of chance. On Sunday from 1 to 6 p.m. a chicken dinner will be available for $2.25 per adult and $1 for children under 12. Helicopter rides will be given from 1 p.m. till ?

This year's raffle will offer $600 cash or a vacation for two to any of the places offered. Second place prize is four steel-belted radial tires and third and fourth place prizes will be cash. The price per raffle ticket is a $1 donation.

ANYONE INTERESTED in working with the Citizen's

Recreation Committee or willing to donate a maximum 2 hours a month of their skills whenever required is encouraged to call 356-2065 and have their name placed on the Lindenhurst People Power List. Everyone from teenagers up is encouraged to help work to make Lindenhurst an even better place to live.

PEER GROUP PRESSURE! Several youths of our community are now in serious rehearsal to present the public awareness play "Leave It To Laurie" at the Lindenhurst Civic Center on Saturday, July 27, at 8 p.m. and Sunday, July 28, at a 2 p.m. matinee.

The play is written by Mr. Lee Kalcheim and will be brought to the public by The American Cancer Society and Plays For Living, a Division of Family Services Association of America.

The play's sponsor is the Citizen's Recreation Committee with the cooperation of the Lindenhurst Men's Club. The play itself deals with the problem of wanting to be in with the crowd and offers a strong message with a slight twist of humor on the ill effects of smoking.

The play will last approximately 45 minutes with a group discussion, under a discussion leader, to follow. Refreshments will be available and a 50 cents donation will be collected at the door; or tickets can be obtained in advance from Mrs. Jonee Paul at 356-3907 or the Village Hall in the Lindenhurst Plaza Professional Building during regular hours.

The director, Mr. Charles Brown, has been working hard with the performers to present an entertaining as well as informative play. He encourages everyone to take the time to attend one of the performances and express their views on an ever-controversial subject.

THE NEXT Lindenhurst Board meeting will be on Monday, July 22, at the Civic Center at 8 p.m.

Your Police and the Community

By SUE SEDIVEC

Community Relations Officer

Situation:

"Hello - Antioch Police?"

"Yes"

"I would like to report my bicycle as stolen."

"This is the dispatcher. Could you give me more information?"

SOUNDS FAMILIAR? Yes, but unfortunately bicycle thieves are plaguing our village and recently their disease is spreading. Even securely-locked bicycles are being stolen and these "bold ones" have the audacity to even go into garages and steal bicycles.

Our Police department encourages all bicycle owners to register their bikes and to purchase a 50-cent village sticker. The registration includes description and serial number, and this aids in identifying lost or stolen bicycles.

Of course we impress on bicycle owners, young and old, to secure their bikes with a good lock and chain and not leave a bike unattended.

If you should see anyone tampering with a bike, notify the police immediately and note the description of the person or persons.

Depending on the age, the penalty for theft of a bicycle will vary. But if apprehended, the outcome will not be pleasant. We encourage all community members to be especially aware of bicycle thieves and to make an extra effort to report any strange happenings near bicycle parking areas or even in their neighborhood.

We at the department will do what we can to attempt to locate stolen bikes, but community "detective" cooperation will increase the possibilities of finding these thieves.

Our bold thieves exhibit a lack of respect for others' property and display those sickening attributes of being a cheat, liar and thoughtless person. We can only do what we can together to alleviate this problem and, hopefully, our village will cure this disease.

County Fair Queen
To Win Scholarship

The Lake County Fair
Association is offering a $500 scholarship to this year's Miss Lake County Fair, which may be used to attend the college of here choice.

The crowning of the Fair
Queen will be one of the main events on opening day, Wednesday, July 24. It is scheduled for 8 o'clock that night.

The fairgrounds are in Grayslake at Routes 45 and 120.
This year the Fair is offering two nights of professional rodeo for evening entertainment on July 26 and 27 starting at 8 p.m.
This is part of the former

Calzavara Rodeo and they have outstanding livestock to be rode with top quality action.

The Fair also offers Mel's
Circus Clown Band on Friday-
Saturday-Sunday, July 26-27-28.

The 7-piece aggregation, now in its 24th year on the road, presents a varied musical program, including the traditional Circus Gallops and marches.

The band has attended the Lake County Fair for four years and wherever they play there is always a crowd. The roving band visits all departments of the Fair when they are on the ground.

'Improve Chain o' Lakes,' Top Officials Told

Governor Dan Walker, Congressman Robert McClory and State Conservation Director Anthony Dean have received letters urging them to take action in improving the Chain O' Lakes.

The letters were signed by Edward Caulfield of Antioch, president of a group called Louis Forbrich's Lake Marie Improvement Association.

In his letter to Walker, Caulfield says the members of his association "urge you to give your full support to legislation to control flooding in the Chain O' Lakes area and along the Fox River."

"For 10 years, the state deliberately neglected our area," Caulfield told the governor. "Funds that should have been spent to maintain the chain were diverted to other areas especially to southern Illinois. We demand that our fair share of money be spent to improve and maintain the chain."

"We therefore urge you," Caulfield continued, "to include the necessary funds in the state's 1975 budget to make certain that the necessary flood control is adequately financed."

Caulfield told McClory that the Lake Marie association "thanks you for your efforts to implement the Fox River Valley study. We sincerely appreciate your success in persuading the Corps of Engineers to provide funds and to begin a study of the Fox River flooding and its control."

"For too many years," Caulfield told McClory, "We who live in the Chain O' Lakes and along the Fox River have suffered heavy losses due to flooding. The damage has been especially heavy during the past three years. Please continue your efforts in our behalf by following through to see that the study and the ultimate control projects are expedited."

Caulfield told Dean: "As you pointed out (in a recent meeting at Fox Lake) it is certainly time for the Conservation Department to stop neglecting the Chain as it had for 10 years under your predecessor. Our fair share of taxes should be spent to improve the Chain and to control its annual flooding. We shall expect you to see that we receive this tax money in the form of the improvements you outlined in your talk."

GOV. WALKER recently met with members of the Chain O' Lakes Study Commission and agreed to approve the funding for that group to continue its investigation of flooding and pollution problems.

The commission is still waiting, however, for $75,000 to be appropriated for an immediate dredging operation and $145,000 for environmental and engineering studies.

Rep. W.J. Murphy of Fox Lake said Sunday that bills authorizing the appropriations are on the governor's desk and "I have every reason to believe that he will sign them."

The commission recently gave the governor its final report, which said that the area's No. 1 problem is flooding — "a dire emergency" — and that reclaiming and saving the lakes is also of an emergency nature.

"The value of this great body of water for boating and fishing is rapidly diminishing," the report said.

Chairman of the Chain O' Lakes Study Commission is William E. Brook of Antioch. The 13-member group includes several lawmakers, including Rep. John Matijevich of North Chicago and Rep. Murphy.

USDA Increases Assist Rates

WASHINGTON -- The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) July 11 increased its rates of payment to State educational agencies to assist schools taking part in the National School Lunch and School Breakfast programs. The increases, which will be in effect July 1 through December 31, were announced by USDA's Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) to implement the provisions of Public Law 93-150, passed in November 1973. It provides that payment rates for school lunches and breakfasts be adjusted twice each year, in line with changes in the "food away from home" series of the U.S. Department of Labor's Consumer Price Index (CPI).

In the National School Lunch Program, the national average payment to States for their use to assist local school authorities help defray food costs of each lunch served to participating children will be increased a half cent, from 10.50 cents to 11 cents. Within that average, States are authorized to vary the rate or reimbursement to individual schools, subject to certain conditions, up to a maximum of 17 cents a lunch. Previously the ceiling was $16.50 cents.

The national average payment to States for each breakfast served to eligible children will be increased one quarter cent—from 8.50 cents to 8.75 cents. The additional average payment to States for each reduced-price breakfast, which has been 15.75 cents, will be increased to 16.50. The additional average payment to States for a free breakfast, which has been 21 cents will be increased to 22 cents.

For cases of severe need, maximum rates of reimbursement remain at 40 cents for reduced-price breakfasts and 45 cents for free breakfasts.
